Senate Committee Stymies Bridge Bill

LANSING (UPI)—Efforts to refinance the Mackinac Bridge and lower tolls this year were stymied Tuesday when the Senate Highway Committee refused to report enabling legislation out of committee.

However, Senate Highway Committee Chairman Stanley Rozycki, D-Detroit, promised the controversial bridge bill would be one of the first acted on during the next session of the Legislature in January.

Rozycki said the committee wanted more time to study the measure. He said there would be "comprehensive hearings, possibly around the state, to give everybody concerned an opportunity to express their viewpoint."

He also said his committee would consider going to Washington to discuss with the Federal Bureau of Roads the possibility of the federal government taking over the bridge refinancing problems.

High interest rates on the $99.8 million in outstanding bridge bonds are making the Mackinac Bridge the most expensive stretch of toll road in the nation at $3.75 for a one-way, five mile trip.

Chief backer of the refinancing bill in the Senate, Thomas Schweigert, R-Petoskey, said "users of the Mackinac Bridge will continue to pay unnecessarily high tolls because of inaction on the part of Senate Democrats."

The bridge measure, which passed in the House by an overwhelming 103-0 vote last week, was only in the Senate committee one day.

"It is preposterous to expect the committee to take action within 24 hours that would require the people of Michigan to assume the financial burden of a $100 million venture to refinance the Mackinac Bridge," said Rozycki.

He added the bill, "could have considerable merit, and again it could merely be a plan to enable those who bought the bonds to assume a large profit, by paying them a premium of about $5 million and giving them back their money to venture into some other area."

"The bill passed by the House would not have cost the taxpayer anything. It simply would have cut down the amount paid for interest on the outstanding indebtedness," Schweigert said. The proposal called for refinancing of the bridge with bonds backed by the full faith and credit of the state.

Rozycki said the committee would "not be placed in a position where it must take hasty action on such an expensive proposal."

During the committee hearing, Sen. Mike O'Brien, D-Detroit, supported the move to obtain federal funds for refinancing the bridge.

"This is an interstate highway (I 75) and somebody has been remiss in not making a greater play for federal assistance," he said.

"Attempts to get federal aid will continue, but in the meantime, give us something by which we can save money," urged Rep. Einar Erlandsen, D-Escanaba, who sponsored the measure in the House.

The bridge bill was the only major piece of legislation which failed to be reported out of committee prior to the midnight deadline.

A bill to establish an 18-member bipartisan legislative council was placed on the calendar for debate.

The council would oversee the duties of the Legislative Service Bureau which is in charge of drafting all bills and resolutions.

Rhodesia Snubs Warning, Plans British Break

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (UPI)—The white colonial government in Rhodesia today ignored warnings of an African blood-bath and went ahead with plans to break away from Britain.

Prime Minister Ian Smith called a cabinet meeting to discuss the timetable for a unilateral declaration of independence, a move designed to retain minority rule by the colony's 250,000 white settlers over 3.6 million restless blacks.

"The die is cast," Smith told cheering well-wishers Tuesday night when he returned to Salisbury from a week of fruitless talks in London with British Prime Minister Harold Wilson. Smith said it was an even bet that Rhodesia would have its independence by Christmas.

Wilson Pleads Case
Wilson, in a dramatic address to the British people Tuesday night, pleaded with Smith to think again before taking an action that could engulf wide areas of Africa in a disastrous race war.

"Many innocent people, men and women of all races, black and white, could lose their lives," Wilson warned. "It is a nightmare with which I have to live, that this could be enacted again—on British soil."

"A so-called independence, illegally taken, could start a chain reaction in Africa of which no one could see the end."

Sends Message
The British leader sent an urgent message to Smith asking him to accept a commonwealth mission in Salisbury to discuss terms of independence. Britain insists on eventual rule in Rhodesia by the majority blacks.

But Smith appeared to have his mind made up, despite Wilson's pleadings and almost universal opposition to his terms for independence from the nations of the world.

The United Nations General Assembly, in a near unanimous vote, Tuesday called on Britain to take all measures, including the use of force if necessary, to prevent a unilateral declaration of independence. The vote was 107 to 2. The General Assembly action was said to have been quietly but firmly pushed by the United States.

Johnson Names Reynolds Judge
WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson today appointed John W. Reynolds, former Democratic governor of Wisconsin, to be new federal judge for the Eastern District of Wisconsin.

He replaces Kenneth P. Grubb, who retired. Reynolds was defeated in a bid for re-election to the governor's chair by Republican Warren P. Knowles last fall.

Welfare Merger Bill Passed To Governor

$6.1 Million State Aid Boost Included

LANSING UPI — The House of Representatives dropped a $6.1 million windfall into the laps of county welfare departments Tuesday by giving resounding 75-17 approval to the Welfare Merger Bill.

But the House State Affairs Committee doused, at least for this session, another controversial bill to set up an osteopathic college near Pontiac by failing to report the bill to the floor for debate.

Senate Majority Leader Raymond D. Dzendzel, D-Detroit, said he was "quite displeased" to learn the bill died. He promised another attempt next session to establish the college.

The welfare bill, considered another paving-stone in the road to implementing federal "medical" programs, was sent to Gov. George Romney for his approval. The measure was approved in the Senate last week.

Boost State Share
Under the bill, which originated in the Senate but was greatly revised in the House, all local welfare services except those in Oakland County and in Wayne County outside the City of Detroit will be merged with the State Department of Social Welfare.

In addition, the state will boost its share of direct relief from 30 to 40 per cent and for the first time will assume 40 per cent of the costs of administration—in excess of one tax mill of the community's total state equalized valuation.

For example, if a county's total welfare costs were $1 million and one mill on its state equalized valuation were $500,000, it would get the larger $500,000 amount instead of the $400,000 figured on the 40 per cent arrangement.

True Fiscal Reform
Payments will be retroactive to Oct. 1.

"This is truly a part of a fiscal reform program in that the welfare money will be spread through the counties," said Rep. William A. Ryan, D-Detroit, one of the author's of the revised version of the bill. "It's the next best thing to a property tax rebate."

Ryan said so far, 43 counties have shifted their social welfare workers to the state civil service system and another 30 are at various stages of shifting their operations.

The shift was made necessary by a directive from the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare requiring all welfare case workers and case supervisors using federal funds to be college graduates or pass qualifying tests after Oct. 1.

Wayne and Oakland Counties, because of several problems in their areas, preferred not to be included in the merger portion of the bill. But machinery was written in to allow them to come in later if they choose—and to receive the additional state support from the first of the quarter when they elect to come under the bill's provisions. The two counties, however,

Klansmen Stir Racial Strife

By RICHARD B. LEGGITT
CRAWFORDVILLE, Ga. UPI—Two black-shirted Ku Klux Klansmen, acquitted a year ago in the night rider slaying of a Negro educator, attacked a Negro photographer Tuesday when he took their picture.

The attack came shortly after 200 Negro youngsters boycotting an all-Negro school swarmed into the building and staged a noisy sit-in demonstration in the halls.

Earlier, in the day, a white youth jammed a camera into the face of a newsman, injuring him slightly, when the cameraman attempted to photograph Negroes trying to board school buses for whites.

Negroes planned to try again today to board the buses. A large force of state troopers has blocked their daily attempts to board the buses for more than two weeks.

Bitterness mounted in this troubled northeast Georgia town where Negroes are protesting, among other things, the busing of white students to schools in neighboring counties and the closing of the only white school here to avoid integration.

Howard Sims, 43, and Cecil Myers, 26, of Athens, Ga., were taken into custody in connection with the attack on Brig Cabel.

U. S. Steel Sues For $28 Million In Excess Taxes
NEW YORK (UPI) — U. S. Steel Corp. sued Tuesday to recover nearly $28 million, plus 6 per cent interest, which it paid in taxes 15 years ago.

Laurence Vogel, chief of the tax division of the U.S. attorney's office, said the claim was the largest ever made by a corporation.

In the federal court suit, the company said it paid $214.9 million income and excess profit taxes in 1950, and then was assessed another $23 million.

The suit claimed the government disallowed the corporation extraordinary strike expenses and some deductions on iron ore holdings. In addition, the company said it made an overpayment.

The actual amount asked was $27,770, 044, plus the interest.

Moslem Mob Wrecks Red Youth Office

JAKARTA (UPI)—A mob of 2,000 screaming Moslems today wrecked the headquarters of the Communist-run Indonesian Youth Front. The organization is sponsored by the government of President Sukarno.

Army and police forces made no attempt to stop the attack. When it appeared that the demonstration was getting out of hand, troops from Sukarno's palace guard approached with fixed bayonets and the crowd dispersed.

But before leaving, the Moslems stormed into the long, one-story building, smashed all windows and furniture, and threw all posters, signs and documents found inside into a huge bonfire in the front yard.

The Youth Front headquarters is just down the street from Sukarno's Jakarta palace.

Former Assembly Point
The building housed several Communist youth groups. It was the assembly point for most of the anti-American demonstrations called by the Communists on an almost daily basis during the past year.

The demonstrators, mostly Moslem youth groups encouraged by the army, have been systematically attacking and wrecking the homes of prominent Communist party leaders and the offices of Communist Party front groups.

The mob chanted "Hang Ait," the Communist Party leader D.M. Aitid who has been in hiding ever since the Sept. 30 leftist attempt to overthrow Sukarno, and "Ban the PKI" (the Communist Party).

Demonstrators told bystanders they would continue to attack and sack any offices connected with the Communists.

The entire stock of a Communist bookstore in the residential Kemajora suburb of Jakarta was burned today and the office of the Communist-dominated Postal Workers Union was ransacked.

PKI Quarters Burned
Last Friday, a Moslem mob attacked the regional and city headquarters of the PKI here and burned the building to the ground.

The anti-Communist violence here raged on despite attempts by Sukarno to convince the world that order had been restored.

Radio Jakarta said Sukarno described reports of the coup which nearly toppled him from power as exaggerated. The broadcast said Sukarno met with Deputy Prime Minister Subandrio and Information Minister Maj. Gen. Achmad Tuesday night to consider world reaction to the Indonesian turmoil.

Subandrio was quoted as saying that Sukarno claimed the coup attempt had "strengthened the revolution." Subandrio said Sukarno had issued instructions to restore communications with the outside world in order to tell the story.

Sukarno's meeting left unclear the president's attitude toward the Communists.

Soviet Spacemen Attacked On Tour
BERLIN (UPI)—Soviet cosmonauts Alexei Leonov and Pavel Belyayev were taken out of West Berlin under military police escort Tuesday night when anti-Communist demonstrators attacked their automobile, smearing it with red paint.

The incident occurred in the French sector of the divided city outside a theater where the cosmonauts were appearing under the auspices of the West Berlin branch of the (Communist) Soviet-German Friendship Society.

Infantrymen Catch Fleeing Viet Cong

SAIGON (UPI)—Hundreds of U.S. infantrymen today caught up with the rear guard of an estimated 2,000 Communist troops fleeing the Soui La Tinh Valley. The 1st Cavalry Division forces were inflicting heavy casualties on the Reds, a U.S. spokesman said.

The Americans, backed up by Vietnamese government marines, engaged the Viet Cong at the north end of the eight-mile valley 280 miles northeast of Saigon. The action came after four fruitless days of sweeping the region in the Central Highlands in the biggest U.S.-Vietnamese combat operation of the war.

In the first hours of fighting, the U.S. spokesman said, 34 Viet Cong were known dead by body count and 93 captured. At least 44 other Communists were believed slain in "fierce fighting," he added.

Losses Termed Light
U.S. losses were officially listed as "light" but one company of the air cavalry was known to have suffered "moderate" casualties. The division is getting its first combat experience after moving here recently from Ft. Benning, Ga.

Maj. Gen. Harry Kinnard of Dallas, Tex., commanding the air cavalry, said he believed the Communists were left behind to hinder the advancing U.S.-Vietnamese forces while other Viet Cong were fleeing.

But units of Viet Cong also attacked further south in the valley, fighting for three hours before U.S. air strikes and artillery barrages drove them off. At times, the Americans had to call in artillery as close as 200 yards from their own lines.

A U.S. medical evacuation (Medivac) helicopter trying to pick up dead and wounded came under heavy groundfire. The pilot was killed at the con-

Johnson Given Time To Rest

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson, tiring easily but recuperating as expected from stomach surgery, looked forward today to a more varied and tasty diet.

For the second consecutive day there were no official callers scheduled, giving the Chief Executive every opportunity to rest.

He dined Tuesday night on thin-sliced roast beef and mashed potatoes following a noon meal of hamburger, consommé with rice and canned tomatoes. Previously he had been restricted to soup, gelatin and soft-boiled eggs.

The President was said to have a good appetite. He had a small dinner party in his sick-room Tuesday night.

The First Lady was there along with two of his physicians, Dr. J. Willis Hurst and Dr. James C. Cain. Others present were Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers, special assistant Jake Jacobson, and Vicky McCammon, a secretary.

Johnson "successfully resisted the temptation of Mrs. Johnson's ice cream," Moyers reported afterward. He also said the color was coming back into the President's face—returning to his natural ruddiness.

After dictating some letters and memoranda to Miss McCammon, the President retired about 10 p.m. EDT, Moyers said.

Johnson was reported to be following doctors' orders to the letter. He walked in his room and the corridors of Bethesda Naval Hospital Tuesday.

Johnson Names Reynolds Judge

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson today appointed John W. Reynolds, former Democratic governor of Wisconsin, to be new federal judge for the Eastern District of Wisconsin.

He replaces Kenneth P. Grubb, who retired.

Reynolds was defeated in a bid for re-election to the governor's chair by Republican Warren P. Knowles last fall.

Cuban Refugees Hit Florida

KEY WEST (UPI)—An 81-year-old Cuban exile who braved treacherous seas to "get my people out" of Cuba arrived by boat today with more than 45 refugees from Fidel Castro's Communist regime, 90 miles away.

Arturo Gordillo and his big family were among the group of 52 Cubans who braved driving rain and seas up to 10 feet to cross the Florida Straits. The group was the largest to arrive at Key West since the refugees began leaving Cuba under Castro's "open door" policy last week, and brought the total who have arrived in this period to more than 150.

One of the refugees, Eloy Gonzalez, reported "about 8,000 people" were jammed at the Camarioca debarkation point in Cuba "either trying to say goodbye to those approved to leave or to get permission to go themselves."

Gordillo, bareheaded and gaunt, said he and three others left the Florida Keys over the weekend in a 21-foot boat to pick up their loved ones in Cuba. They crammed 25 refugees into the boat and set sail for Florida fighting the raging seas, the old man said.

Coast Guard cutters have been meeting the refugee boats in the straits and taking aboard the passengers or guiding them to Key West.

The Cuban government announced early today it had temporarily shut the doors on the freedom shuttle until the foul weather in the straits improved.

Havana Radio confirmed that a group of newsmen, including Carl Warner of UPI, arrived at the debarkation point of Camarioca Tuesday night. They were the first American correspondents to arrive there since Castro announced his new policy.

"This sleepy fishing village on Cuba's west coast is being transformed into a staging area where hundreds of Cubans are waiting removal to Key West," Warner reported.

The American captain of one of the boats which arrived in Camarioca Monday to pick up exiles said there were "well over 300 people" awaiting transportation.

Capt. Jack Zatz of Miami said the Camarioca debarkation point consisted of 12 large buildings and a number of smaller ones, all prefabricated and "all built within the last month."

Nurse Service Being Extended To All Schools

Under a new Michigan law the Escanaba Area Public Schools will extend its school health and nursing service program to include all of the private and parochial schools in the district.

The hiring of an additional nurse will be necessary to extend the service as required by the new law, and the Board of Education authorized the employment of the nurse at its meeting Tuesday night.

Luther M. Barrett, school superintendent, was encouraged by the Board to proceed with the employment of a nurse as soon as possible. It was suggested that the nurse (who must be a registered nurse) be paid a salary the equivalent of that paid supervising nurses at St. Francis Hospital.

The school health and nursing service program will continue to be supervised by Miss Anita Kotila, R. N.

Planning Starts
Presently none of the additional cost of extending the program will be reimbursed to the district, although there is the possibility that it may be forthcoming from federal sources under the Elementary-Secondary Education Act.

The school board moved toward extending the nurse service as soon as possible rather than wait for reimbursement.

The board did authorize the superintendent to proceed with the establishment of a Planning Committee under the Elementary-Secondary Education Act, part of the federal aid to education program. Expanded health and auxiliary services might be a part of the program for which federal funds would be available to the district.

Reject NYC

The Planning Committee will have community-wide representation, the superintendent said. The board made it clear that in launching the Committee it should be understood that there would be no guarantee of the acceptance of their proposals.

In other business the school board:

Approved the lowest of three bids, that of the Nelson Machinery & Boiler Co., Green Bay, to retube the boiler in the Lemmer School; approved an expenditure of not more than $250 to participate with the contractor in correcting a fault in the ceramic tile flooring in the kitchen of the Area High School.

Rejected an invitation to participate in the Neighborhood Youth Corps, a make-work program, because "this program has nothing to do with the education of the youth of this community." The Bay de Noc Community College is sponsoring the NYC for a three-county area. The board had turned down a project of similar nature in August because it did not fit the needs of the community.

Enrollment Up

Approved recognition of the Escanaba District MEA as the negotiating agency for the teachers, subject to approval by legal counsel of the board. Under a new state statute the board and teachers through MEA will negotiate on wages, hours, terms and conditions of employment for 1966-67 contracts.

Heard reports by the superintendent including:

That all employees are receiving chest x-rays at the Health Department mobile unit; that Stephen C. Battie, business manager is in Minneapolis attending a meeting of American School Business officials; and that new legislation and federal aid to schools will be discussed at a meeting of school boards and superintendents of Delta County at Kipling Oct. 22.

That enrollment in the Area Schools is now 4,444 -- an increase of 187 over last year. There is for that reason "extreme crowded conditions in some classrooms," said Barrett.

The board as a committee of the whole concluded its meeting with a discussion of the building needs of the Area Schools.

Sunday School Outing Planned

Children four years of age through the 2nd grade belonging to the Sunday School of Christ The King Lutheran Church and others who have a parent, a member of the church, will meet at the church Thursday at 1:30 p.m. to board the church bus for a tour to several points of interest in the city. They will then go to Pioneer Trail Park for a lunch, group games and other recreation. Parents or teen-age youth who can help chaperone the group will be permitted to bring younger pre-school children if they so desire. They are asked to phone ST 6-7888 if they can serve in this capacity. Children are asked to provide rye bread, apples, cabbage and potatoes if they would like to feed the tame deer at the Dells Supper Club.

Need Winning Combination:

Team Teaching Is Like Football

MADISON HEIGHTS (AP)—Student and teacher have to keep alert when they're in the "fishbowl" of one of the new team-teaching classrooms in Michigan.

Twenty-six schools in Michigan have adopted this recent educational innovation.

It puts a team of three or four teachers in a classroom and the instructors "have to work together and find the winning combination—like a football team," says Dr. Kenneth H. Parker of Lamphere School District in Madison Heights.

Parker is the recruiter of teachers for team-teaching classes in the Lamphere district.

"Older teachers, set in their ways, attempt it gingerly," he says.

Classrooms Like Fishbowls

"Young teachers and strong points are on display. But since most young teachers want to learn better methods, they are eager to work in a team," he says.

The idea of team teaching demands a new type of school in which classrooms are like fishbowls.

New schools in the Lamphere district, for example, are designed in four sections called quads. Movable glass walls divide the sections. If the glass partitions were removed, the quads would become one vast room.

Each room in the buildings has an elevated stage. The class is separated into groups and the groups are seated in various parts of the room. Audio-visual devices, earphones and tape recorders are used extensively.

Can Separate Children

Exponents of the team teaching method say teachers and students have no secret methods of learning. The strong points of one teacher are observed and—hopefully—copied by other teachers.

The children may, for example, be separated so all youngsters who are poor in math form one group. This group may then get the benefit of a teacher who is highly skilled in math. Simultaneously, the other groups may be concentrating on reading or spelling.

At the beginning of the year, students are tested for ability. Then they are segregated into groups within the same classroom. Special attention is given slow learners and more advanced children are moved along more quickly. There also are intermediate groups which may need special instruction in various subjects.

With the new method Parker says, administrators learn almost immediately whether a teacher is capable.

Teachers Inspected
"Under team teaching," says Lamphere curriculum director William R. Tollman, "an instructor's organizational and discipline ability is under glass and open to constant daily inspection."

"If we learn after one year a new teacher does not fit into the team concept, he or she is released," Parker says.

Tollman says most teachers at Lamphere are enthusiastic about the system. Some were disappointed a year ago when it was discovered after evaluation tests that lower ability students did not score any higher under team teaching than those in "old-fashioned" classrooms.

However, higher level students scored much better than their counterparts in a self-contained classroom, Tollman says.

A prime motivator in the introduction of team teaching to Michigan was John Blackhall Smith, superintendent of Birmingham schools. He studied the concept at Harvard Graduate School of Education in 1956-57 and put it into action for the first time in the United States at Franklin School in Lexington, Mass. Smith now directs a team teaching program in Birmingham.

Church Group At Meeting Of Association

RAPID RIVER — Rapid River Congregational Church was represented by nine delegates at the annual meeting of the Delta Association held at the Cooks Congregational Church Sunday. They were the Rev. Philip C. Meili, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Olson, Mrs. Esther Caswell, Mrs. Leonard Nelson, Mrs. Minnie McPherson, Mrs. Jesse Jenkins, Mrs. Mildred Safford and Mrs. Thomas Safford.

During the morning session Rev. Meili was installed as pastor of the West Delta Parish. Dr. Duane Vore, Michigan Conference minister, conducted the ceremony.

Rev. Meili was appointed scribe and Mrs. Charles Bowen was elected to serve three years on the nominating committee. Mrs. Safford reported on Rapid River Church's activities.

The Association's morning and evening speakers were Dr. Vore, David Rubenstein, United Church of Christ missionary in South Africa, and Mrs. Carl Randall, state president of the Woman's Fellowship.

Next year's association meeting will be held at the Rapid River Church. Members of the Delta Association are Rapid River, Isabella, Garden, Fayette, and Cooks Congregational churches. Rev. Meili is pastor of the Rapid River and Isabella churches while the Rev. Neil McShane serves three churches, Garden, Fayette and Cooks.

Garden Peninsula Circle Meeting

Mrs. William McDermott entertained St. Jude Circle at her home recently. Plans were completed for the public card party at the St. John Hall Oct. 17. A social hour and refreshments were enjoyed. The November meeting of the Circle will be a potluck supper for members and their husbands at the home of Mrs. Roland Boudreau.

Mrs. Edith Heafield, Mrs. Wesley Horning, Mrs. Walter Kreshefski, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter DeGroot attended the all day meeting of the Delta Association at the Cooks Congregational Church Sunday.

New Fishing Frontier

Dr. Howard Tanner, chief of the Fish Division of the Michigan Conservation Department has called the Great Lakes the most promising new fishing frontier in North America.

It is amazing that it has been overlooked so long as a sport fishing Olympus. The omission hasn't been complete, of course, the "deep sea" fishing for lake trout off Great Traverse was a big and growing sport when the lamprey killed off the trout. It then moved to Lake Superior where it flourished for some years before it expired there, too, with the decline of the fishery.

We've always had hook-and-line fishing off Great Lakes docks by schools of perch fishermen and the valley fisheries of Erie, and Saginaw Bay and the Bays de Noc have been famed. Lake Erie, because it is bordered by one of the great population belts of America, has been under great fishing pressure, but that fishery has declined with the quality of its waters, poorer fish succeeding good ones as pollution increased and the algae bloomed.

And yet, even with the Great Lakes in their present low state of depressed fishery, Dr. Tanner's description of the Great Lakes as the most promising new fishing frontier in North America is apt. This is the greatest fresh water resource in the whole world and so it is at least the potential habitat for the world's greatest fresh water fishery.

It has been described by many scientists as the greatest fresh water food resource in the world.

It has always bugged the Conservation Department that it has not been able to obtain from the Legislature enactment of a rod license for Great Lakes fishing, because the money could be used to develop the fishery. As it is, the fishing is free and it's lousy. Our fishery managers believe that fishermen would rather pay something to catch fish than to fish free and get nothing.

With the sea lampreys which konked the lake trout finally being overcome by control measures, the lakes fishery is given a new lease on life. But as this gain is made, two other menaces intrude. One is the long time deterioration of the lakes through pollution. This destruction is far advanced in Erie and already serious in Lake Michigan. Huron and Superior are threatened, too, but not so immediately because they are not under the population pressures that accelerate pollution of the other lakes.

The other menace, particularly in Lake Michigan, is the alewife, a trash fish that now constitutes more than 95 per cent of all the fish, by weight, in all the Great Lakes. It is so low in food value that it is relatively worthless at a cent a pound as a catfood material.

The alewife presents such a problem of removal to make room for better fish, because its low value makes a commercial harvest so marginal, that Michigan fisheries experts are trying to convert it from a liability to an asset. They hope to remove it—or at least to bring it under control so it won't prey so heavily upon the good fish that the state plants—by using it as a food for other fishes.

Specifically in Dr. Tanner's mind are the coho salmon and the striped bass, both new game fish species for the Great Lakes. There's some danger in this strategy, but the scientists think it's worth the risk. It'll cost money to try, though, and that's why the Conservation Department wants a Great Lakes fishing license.

The old status of the Great Lakes fishery was commercial. For a century it was very productive and then it collapsed under gross mismanagement. Some fish species were overcaught, but the great losses were incurred by the flushing of cities' sewage and industrial wastes into the lakes. There is talk now of restoring the lakes to their old quality and of restoring the fishery. It will take a long time and mountains of money and the present measures can only be regarded as experimental.

When and if the fishery is restored there is no question that it will be a sport fishery in a way that it has never been before. A fish in a sports fisherman's creel is worth more than one on a fishmonger's scale.

But Dr. Tanner is the first to say that the commercial fisherman should have a place in the lakes' future. They can help manage a fishery and make it productive for the sports fisherman in a way that he can never help his own sport. He'll catch the fish he wants and neglect others that will upset the fishery balance and destroy his sport fishing, while the commercial fisherman will catch anything that the law allows him to catch that he can make a buck at.

But this is all counting chickens before they're hatched. Before we can decide who'll catch the fish—the sportsman or the commercial fisherman—there have to be some fish.

Trains Again

An ellipse as big as a jellybean is the area on the rail that a railroad car wheel touches at any one instant.

Under today's regulations, each ellipse can bear a maximum load of 32,875 pounds. A 100-car train, weighing 26.8 million pounds and stretching more than a mile, is supported at any given moment on an area totalling only 294.4 square inches, or a little more than two square feet.

This means huge tonnages can be moved at high speed for a relatively small power output and is the reason why the railroad train, man's first and oldest form of self-propelled transportation, is still a vital member of the nation's transportation industry.

The tiny ellipse also explains why cities are taking a new look at steel wheels and steel rails as a means of relieving congested automobile commuter traffic—San Francisco, for one, is betting $1 billion on a 75-mile rapid transit system—and why the President has just signed a bill providing $90 million for research into rail travel.

Initial objective of this research will be to find ways to speed up conventional trains to 150 miles an hour, and one of the first results may be such a high-speed rail link along the eastern seaboard between Boston and Washington.

Ultimately we may see underground intercity subway systems, possibly in the form of great vacuum tubes, with trains running at speeds up to 400 miles an hour—all on the fabulous ellipse.

Viet Cong Taxes

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — A Vietnamese source has passed on the Viet Cong tax schedules for one South Viet Nam province.

Communist guerrillas collect these taxes, called "contributions," in government-controlled and contested areas as well as in the hamlets and villages under V. C. control. Their take from Saigon, for example is great.

The Viet Cong secure their collections by well-laid propaganda and by threats.

They warn a Saigon businessman his store will be destroyed. They tell a Hue professor that he or his wife or children will be kidnapped. They let a farmer or wholesaler know his goods will be hijacked on the way to market. They carry through on their threats. A bus line or restaurant that doesn't pay taxes is bombed. An "unco-operate," well-to-do man finds he must ransom his children.

Many Vietnamese are so afraid of V. C. terrorism they don't dare refuse these requests, which are carefully tailored according to the size of the enterprise or the wealth of the man.

The standard V. C. rate schedule in this province calls for all goods shipped out to Saigon and elsewhere to be taxed 5 per cent in cash.

V. C. agents watch the roads, collect the tax in goods if the farmer-transporter doesn't have cash. If they think he's been trying to evade their collectors, he pays a penalty.

This export tax applies across the board—to rice, cassava, taro, peanuts, water buffalo, oxen, pigs, chickens, ducks and fish.

Imports from Saigon (beer, soft drinks, liquor, crackers, toilet soap, perfume, cigarettes and whatever) are taxed 5 per cent of the Saigon price.

Farmers pay production taxes which range from 6 per cent of the crop to 28 per cent and up.

Any family producing 120 bushels of rice pays a quarter of his output in tax.

The only farmers who pay the low 6 per cent rate are those who produce less than 12 bushels.

Transportation taxes of 10 to 50 per cent are levied on bus lines, barges, "motorized" boats, trucks.

Note that rice shipped to Saigon, for example, is taxed four times—the production tax, the export (to Saigon) tax, the transportation tax, the import (into Saigon) tax. That doesn't

Giant Railroads Request Merger

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two giant railroads sought federal permission Tuesday to create the nation's largest rail system.

The Norfolk and Western (N&W) and the Chesapeake and Ohio (C&O) applied to the Interstate Commerce Commission for authority to merge.

The railroads said they would, if the ICC desired, also take over five other Eastern railroads.

Approval of the plans, which were announced Aug. 31, would result in a 26,400 mile system covering 20 Northeast and Central states and two Canadian provinces, and taking in revenues of more than $1.8 billion annually.

Demands for state contribution to various government services which previously were financed locally are not exactly new. But a few new variations from familiar themes are being heard.

With the state rolling in dough, as compared with the past six or more years, more groups would like to share the pie. This is seen despite the fact the experts say it will take only a few years for the present surplus to be eaten up by existing agencies through the rising costs of services.

Mental health, social welfare, higher education, elementary and secondary school officials all say the past years of austerity budgets have pushed needs to the critical stage and the gaps must be filled with the healthy surplus now on the books.

This select list can be magnified by the number of state agencies now in existence.

Community colleges have received considerable boosts in state aid the past few years. Legislators saw this approach as one way to possibly alleviate some of the problems of the four-year colleges and universities.

Now there comes forth a report from a national management consultant firm which says the state needs to make a concentrated financial push to bring Michigan's community colleges up to standard in the single area of libraries.

The New York firm says 12 of the 18 community colleges in operation at the end of the last school year had library collections below the minimum standards recommended by the American Library Association. Staff and facility problems also were cited as critical or nearly so.

Reflecting on the effect of this deficiency, the organization said inadequate library service results in the community and state being short-changed because it prohibits the community college from fulfilling its

The Doctor Says:

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt

Tattooing was practiced as long ago as 4000 B.C. and was very popular in ancient Greece and Rome. It was forbidden by the early Christians but in the late 1700s it was taken up by the aristocracy. Kings and princes were tattooed up till the end of World War I. Although widely practiced in many primitive societies, its popularity has fallen off in the United States.

Persons often get themselves tattooed as a lasting souvenir of some foreign port and more likely than not under pressure from their tattooed buddies or under the influence of alcohol.

The adolescent often has himself tattooed or even tattoo himself to show that he is tough and "can take it." Thousands of these youngsters live to regret it and later seek to have their tattoos removed.

Since the process of tattooing involves inserting needles into the deep layers of the skin and since the operators, especially self-tattooers, usually do not understand the requirements of surgical asepsis, local infection or even blood poisoning can result. Some of the dyes set up a chronic allergic reaction that may persist for years. Another disadvantage, not appreciated until it is too late, is that after the name "Maise" has been carefully inscribed in the skin a young man may find himself in love with Dora. Furthermore it is much more difficult and expensive to have a tattoo removed than to have it put on.

The tattooed skin can be removed entirely and replaced with a skin graft or it can be re-tattooed with flesh colored pigment. But the preferred method now is surgical planing. In this process the skin is chilled and a small wire brush revolving at high speed removes the skin down to the germinating layer which then produces normal skin. All methods of treatment are much more difficult in areas such as the chest where the skin is tight than in areas where it is loose such as the arm.

A certain number of youths will always have to gain their knowledge the hard way but those who refuse to let themselves be tattooed in the first place will never regret it.

Dear Ann Landers:

I am active in our church auxiliary and I hold a state office. I must go to meetings every Tuesday night. There are three very nice young girls in the neighborhood I call on to sit with Gerald. The little red-headed girl is 16. The other two girls are 15.

Last night Gerald asked me who I had called to sit with him and I told him "Grace." "She is one of the 15-year-olds," he said, "I'd rather have the redhead."

This made me stop and think about something that never crossed my mind before. Please read between the lines and tell me your ideas on the subject—

CONCERNED MOTHER

Dear Mother: When a boy is old enough to ask for a red-headed baby sitter, he is old enough to stay home alone.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm in my third year of college and I'm going with a girl who is in her second year. I drive my car to school every day and take four passengers regularly. Dorothy is one of my steady riders.

We were just pals when she started to ride with me almost two years ago and I charged her the same as I charged the others. In the last six months we have fallen in love and plan to be married.

Last night Dorothy told me her parents think it is awfully cheap of me to charge her to ride in my car. They felt it was O. K. at the beginning, but now that we are almost engaged they don't think I should collect from her.

We both work part-time and make the same wages. I feel she should pay because then I can take her to better places. She seems to side with her folks. This is the first serious disagreement we have had in two years and it bothers me. What do you think? — T. C.

Dear T. C.: When Dorothy first started to ride in your car she was just a passenger. Now that you're planning to marry, please stop collecting money from her, Bub.

Ann Landers Son, 13, Prefers Redhead Sitter

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a dirty, suspicious mind that he is constantly embarrassing me in front of friends and relatives?

If I wave a friendly hello to my daughter's music teacher he pulls me aside and says, "What's been going on between you two anyway?" If we are at a party and I have a brief conversation with a man my husband comes over and says, "What are you two arranging?"

The other evening my sister and her husband were visiting us and the telephone rang. It was a wrong number. My husband blurted out, "Wrong number my foot. That was probably one of Ruth's boy friends."

I have never given him any reason to mistrust me. We have six children and a ten room house. His mother lives with us. Where would I find the time and energy to chase men?

Everyone laughs when he makes these crude remarks but I know he's not kidding. What should I do? — MORTIFIED.

Dear Mother: A man who is so brutal and punishing has a sick mind. Get him to a professional where he can unload his hostilities and then, hopefully he'll stop beating on you.

What is French kissing? Is it wrong? Who should set the necking limits — the boy or the girl? Can a shotgun wedding succeed? Read Ann Landers' booklet, "Teen-age Sex—Ten Ways to Cool It." Send 50c in coin and a long self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

CHATTANOOGA CHANGE. CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — In Chattanooga, it's the coin of the realm. But it's no good anywhere else.

Bronze commemorative coins have been issued to help the city celebrate its 150th anniversary this year.

Participating merchants will accept the coins in lieu of 50 cents, or a customer may take one in change instead of a half dollar.

The coins are about the size of a 50-cent piece and are stamped with images of an Indian and the famed Civil War locomotive "General," which was the object of the fabled "Great Locomotive Chase."

School Prayer Plaintiff Faces Assault Charges

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Madalyn Murray, an atheist whose lawsuits resulted in the Supreme Court's decision outlawing compulsory prayers in public schools has been ordered extradited to Maryland to face charges of assaulting a policeman.

"The first thing I did was to hire a very fine attorney," Mrs. Murray said. "I feel I'm in very good hands."

Gov. John Connally ordered Mrs. Murray extradited. "I see no justification for not giving full faith and credit to the request of Maryland," Connally said as he signed the extradition papers.

Mrs. Murray, a 46-year-old divorcee, contends Maryland simply wants her back so it can "persecute" her for her anti-religious activities and not really for assaulting a policeman, a misdemeanor.

Mrs. Murray said last week at an extradition hearing she planned to fight the extradition all the way to the Supreme Court because she feared she would be murdered if forced back to Baltimore.

She said she would consider killing herself if she had to return.

Mrs. Murray is accused of kicking a police sergeant who tried to arrest her at her home in Baltimore June 20, 1964.

Medical Degree Near, Student Faces Deporting

DETROIT (UPI) — A Chinese medical student, orphaned by the Japanese during World War II, who is paying his own way through medical training, is scheduled to be deported to Formosa Oct. 28.

Dr. Peter Chin-hsin Fang, 31, came to the United States in 1960 to intern at Grace Hospital on an exchange visitor's visa. Following his internship, Fang took a year of general surgery and decided to specialize in orthopedic surgery.

Although the residency in orthopedic surgery normally takes only three years, Fang's program was set up for four because of his language problems.

Eighth Month Left

Dr. Fang has about 8 months of training to complete before he will finish the program, but if deported, it will take years to complete the training.

Walter Sahl, district director for the U.S. Immigration Service explained he is powerless in the situation.

"The State Department makes the rules, we just carry them out," he said.

Many persons, including Dr. Fang, keep hoping some sort of miracle will occur, but things look bleak.

"I'm sure it's just a misunderstanding, but I'm packing my bags anyway," Fang said.

Girl Scout, 11, Raped; Police Seek Collegian

NORTH MASSAPEQUA, N.Y. (UPI) — A 20-year-old college student described by neighbors as "a fine boy" was sought today for the kidnap-rape of an 11-year-old girl scout from New Jersey.

The federal district court at Newark, N.J., issued a warrant Tuesday for Walter Robert Mott of North Massapequa, a student at Nassau Community College in Garden City.

The FBI obtained the warrant after witnesses placed Mott near the Fair Lawn, N.J., elementary school from which the girl was kidnaped Monday.

Other witnesses said they saw him near where she escaped from her abductor in Massapequa, on the south shore of Long Island, after a five-hour ride of terror.

Later, Nassau County Chief of Detectives Edward Curran, said the victim, an honor

U.S. To Launch Three Satellites

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — The United States plans a one-two scientific assault on space Thursday by launching three satellites less than two hours apart from its East and West Coast rocket centers.

A sleek Thor-Agena booster at Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., is scheduled to shoot an insect-like craft named "Ogo" toward orbit during a one-hour and 7-minute period starting at 8:07 a.m. EST.

Then, at 10 a.m. EST, a triple-barreled Air Force Titan-3C super rocket is set to blast toward space from Cape Kennedy carrying two satellites.

Ogo, short for Orbiting Geophysical Observatory, and one of the big Titan's payloads are loaded with instruments to tell man more about space around earth. The second satellite aboard the Titan is a 44-inch sighting sphere for ground radar systems.

The main purpose of the Titan-3C flight is to further test the mighty rocket that is scheduled to begin lofting manned orbiting laboratories for the Defense Department in 1968.

It will be the second of 12 flight tests for the super Titan—the most powerful rocket in America's stable of space launchers. The initial Titan-3C scored a brilliant success June 18 by orbiting a 21,000 pound dummy satellite with near-perfect precision.

Besides demonstrating its ability to once again reach orbit, the Titan-3C's versatile third stage will attempt a record series of 10 starts and stops in space. Accomplishment of such a feat would show that the rocket has the maneuverability a military booster needs.

Ogo, second in a series of seven complex flying observatories, is expected to soar into an orbit ranging from 207 to 575 miles high to study radiation near earth, cosmic radio noise, the earth's magnetic field and other near-earth phenomena.

Burglars Flee From Trooper

OTTAWA LAKE (UPI)—Two burglars surprised in a post office break-in fled early today after firing a shot at a state trooper.

The shot missed and the officer, Dwayne Wheat, 30, was not hurt.

State police said Wheat and Trooper Wilbur Rykert, out on a routine patrol, noticed a broken window in the post office. Wheat walked around toward the rear of the building but was confronted by a gunman who warned, "Don't come any closer, officer. Don't try anything."

The bandit, apparently acting as lookout for his accomplice inside, fired one shot at Wheat. The trooper backed away and called for help.

The two robbers quickly jumped in their car and fled, police said. They failed to open the post office safe and got no loot.

Northern Grads To Hear Harden

KINGSFORD — Dr. Edgar L. Harden, president of Northern Michigan University, Marquette, will be the principal speaker at the annual NMU Alumni Association dinner here Thursday evening. More than 125 Northern alumni from 27 Upper Peninsula communities are expected to attend the dinner at 5:30 p. m., in the Masonic Temple. The gathering is in conjunction with the U. P. Michigan Education Association Conference in Iron Mountain.

Highway Design Changes Would Reduce Accidents

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — An anatomy professor said today better highway design would do much more to reduce traffic fatalities than car safety features.

Dr. Donald F. Huelke of the University of Michigan Medical School called for more space or guard rails between lanes of divided highways. He said the grass strip between lanes frequently does little good.

"Many medians separate oncoming lanes by less than 30 feet," Huelke said. "A car traveling at 60 miles per hour could cross that distance in less than half a second."

"Removal of trees, deep ditches and other stationary roadside hazards would markedly reduce fatal accidents," he said.

Huelke's report concluded a four-year research project during which he studied 171 traffic deaths.

Tech Employees Approve Union

HOUGHTON (UPI) — State employees at Michigan Technological University voted 136-34 Tuesday to be represented in collective bargaining by the American Federal, State, County and Municipal Employees Union Local 1166.

The election was held by the Michigan Mediation Board under the terms of a new law permitting public employees to be represented by a union.

It was the first such election ever held at Michigan Tech.

India, Pakistan Clash On Border

NEW DELHI (UPI)—The Indian Defense Ministry announced today at least 60 Pakistani soldiers were killed Monday in the biggest and most serious clash since the U.N. cease-fire on Sept. 23.

It said the battle took place in the Tital sector of Kashmir.

The ministry said Pakistani forces in battalion strength launched three attacks on Indian positions but were beaten back.

U-W President Resigns Club

MADISON, Wis. (UPI) — University of Wisconsin President Fred H. Harrington has resigned from the exclusive Madison Club after two prospective members said their applications were rejected because they are Jews.

State Supreme Court Justice Myron Gordon, one of the prospective members, said "the facts make it thunderously clear it is a continuation of a discriminatory policy."

Attorney Gordon Snykin was also rejected.

The Madison Club, housed in a two-story, unobtrusive brick building overlooking Lake Monona, offers food, a bar and quiet social functions for the town's upper echelon of businessmen and executives. It has not more than 200 members. Madison's population is approximately 150,000.

Harrington, who had no comment on the reasons for his action, sent a letter of resignation to Arlie Mucks Jr., executive secretary of the Wisconsin Alumni Association and a member of the Madison Club board of directors.

Mucks also refused any comment, except to say the letter will be presented to a regular board meeting Oct. 26.

Sukarno Involved In Coup Attempt?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States "suspects" that President Sukarno was involved with the Indonesian Communist Party in the Sept. 30 coup attempt which was suppressed by the Army, high officials said today.

There is considerable evidence pointing in that direction, they declared, but it is not iron-clad and the U.S. government has not drawn any final conclusions.

LCW Units Will Meet Thursday

Lundberg; Ogontz, 8 p.m. Mrs. Richard Johnston; Esther, 2 p.m. at the church parish hall with Mrs. John Lind and Mrs. Nellie Rushford; hostesses; Rapid River, 8 p.m. at parish hall, Mrs. Arnold Carlson, hostess.

U. P. Driver Seminar Set

MARQUETTE (UPI)—A two-day seminar for Upper Peninsula driver education instructors will be held at Northern Michigan University Nov. 5-6.

The seminar is sponsored by the Automobile Club of Michigan. Its purpose is to discuss the implications of traffic engineering, the effect of alcoholic beverages on drivers, traffic safety, and the findings of recent crash injury research.

The seminar is the third in a series sponsored by the Automobile Club.

Labor Dispute:

Assault Warrant Expected After Shotgun Barrage

PETERSBURG (UPI) — Monroe County Prosecutor Paul Braunlich was reported today to issue a felony assault warrant against the owner of a 50-acre construction site which has been the scene of labor unrest for 10 weeks.

Sgt. James Barron, of the Monroe County Sheriff's Department, said Braunlich would issue the warrant if union officials, who were the alleged targets of a shotgun barrage by Daniel Wilkins Monday, would sign a complaint.

Wilkins is the son of Howard Wilkins, president of Research Designing Services, Inc., an airplane and automotive parts manufacturing firm which was to be housed in the $300,000 building.

A token picket line had been maintained around the plant site for 10 weeks until Monday when about 300 officials from 19 unions affiliated with the State Building and Construction Trades Council showed up to protest use of nonunion labor at the site. They came from as far away as Benton Harbor and Port Huron.

Deputies Called

Approximately 18 construction workers entered the plant grounds Monday but did not work.

Sheriff's deputies, called to the scene by union officials following the shooting Monday, sealed off the plant area and finally led all but three of the Wilkins' employees from the property.

Three of the workers, one from the Wilkins' home territory around Angola, Ind., and two others from the Monroe area, stayed on to oversee the ground during the night.

None would volunteer his name. Asked why they had been picked to stay on, the young man from Indian said, "We had the guns and so we stayed."

They said the Wilkins family paid them wages superior to local union wages. The unions have charged Wilkins' employees receive substandard wages and work under substandard conditions.

Dispute Wages

The three who were keeping guard over the plant property from inside a house trailer said they had been asked by Wilkins not to reveal their wage scale. They did say, however, they worked each day from 7 a.m. to 6:30 or 7 p.m., including Saturday and, if they desired, Sunday with Saturdays and all weekday time over eight hours paid for at the rate of time and one-half. Sundays are paid for at double time, they said.

Union spokesmen said unionized construction workers in Michigan earn double time for all time over eight hours worked in a given day and for all Saturday and Sunday work.

The company, which owns other plants in Angola, Ind., and Warren, Mich., had planned to complete construction of the facility here by next month.

About 80 per cent of the steel superstructure has been completed for the plant.

No Arrest Made

Officers said Wilkins was taken to sheriff's headquarters for questioning but was not arrested. He was believed to still be in Michigan Tuesday but his exact whereabouts was not revealed by his employees.

Shoots At Car

The younger Wilkins contracted for the purchase of the land from Mr. and Mrs. Frank Swchla in November of last year.

Deputies said Daniel Wilkins let loose a barrage from a 16-gauge shotgun Monday at a car driven by Walter Sacharczyk, a teamsters' union business agent and president of the Port Huron Building and Construction Trades Council.

Sacharczyk was driving a late model car which belongs to Edward Kantzler, business representative of Teamsters' Local 247 in Detroit and president of the Washtenaw County Building and Construction Trades Council.

A total of 39 shotgun pellet holes were found in the car, according to deputies.

There were no injuries in the shooting.

Rural Disaster Rescue Taught

Members of U. S. Department of Agriculture County Defense Boards of the Upper Peninsula met at the Sherman Hotel Tuesday were instructed in methods of coping with natural disasters like the tornadoes which have hit Lower Michigan in recent years.

The Upper Peninsula has had bad windstorm hits, but has lost few lives in them. They have flattened barns and other buildings, but the greatest damage they have caused has been to standing timber. A tornado at 7 p. m. July 3, 1964 north of Cedar River blew down hundreds of acres of timber in the Menominee State Forest.

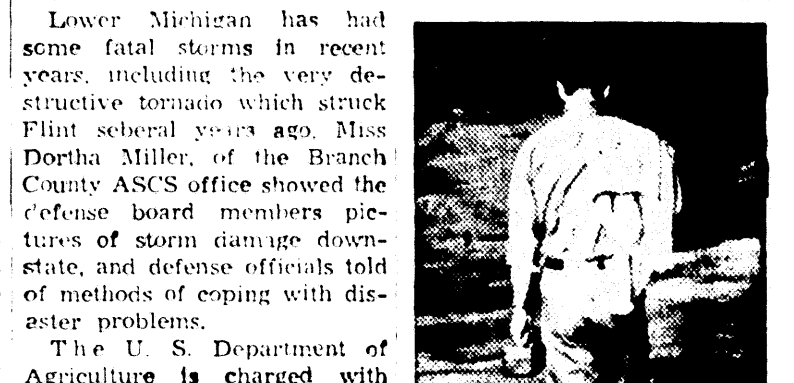

A tornado of May 7, 1964 in Alger (Munising) County destroyed the dairy barn on the Ed Anderson Farm at Eben and killed 25 head of dairy cattle.

Lower Michigan has had some fatal storms in recent years, including the very destructive tornado which struck Flint several years ago. Miss Dortha Miller, of the Branch County ASCS office showed the defense board members pictures of storm damage downstate, and defense officials told of methods of coping with disaster problems.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture is charged with the responsibility of wholesale procurement and distribution of food in disaster areas. Sanitation becomes an immediate health problem in a disaster area with contamination of water supplies a commonplace and with large numbers of dead animals creating disease hazards. Methods of quick burial of such storm victims with bulldozer aid was described.

Methods of chlorination of water supplies were taught, along with techniques for the care and saving of injured animals.

Five fighting techniques for rural areas were taught by specialists from the U. S. Forest Service and Michigan Department of Conservation. Civil Defense's role in disasters was described by Bill Voight of the State Police.

Order Driver To Jail For 60 Days For Intoxication

Austin E. Godin, 42, of North Bay Shore, Escanaba, was convicted today in Municipal Court on a charge of drunk driving and was ordered to serve 30 days in the Delta County jail.

State law requires suspension of license on conviction for drunk driving, but Godin had no license.

Escanaba police arrested him in the 100 block, S. 16th St., at 4:40 p. m., Tuesday after his car was nearly involved in a collision. Officers said he also disobeyed a traffic signal.

Briefly Told

Mason Johnson, Delta County director of Civil Defense, is a patient at St. Francis Hospital and is expected to undergo surgery. His room is 316.

Delta County Sportsmen's Club will hold a regular meeting 7:30 Thursday evening at the club house. The business session will consider committee reports and will be followed by movies and lunch.

Cub Pack 416 of the Washington School will have a reorganization meeting tonight at 7:30 at the school. New Cubmaster is Lloyd Strahl.

Rebekah Degree Staff is sponsoring a rummage sale Thursday at 9 a.m. at the Odd Fellows Hall, N. 10th St.

Traffic court summonses have been issued by Escanaba police to George E. Leach, Mounted Rie., Escanaba, no operator's license and failing to yield the right of way; Clarence V. Johnson, 1212 N. 19th St., improper passing, Effie Dickson, 523 Ogden Ave., failing to yield the right of way; and to Jack R. Groenvelt, 1430 N. 20th St., backing into traffic.

Strike Ends

MOUNT PLEASANT (UPI)—Members of the Sheet Metal Workers Local 408 returned to work Tuesday, ending a 15-week strike at Central Michigan Community Hospital where a $755,000 construction project is under way.

The West Point cadet mess hall has an automatic dishwasher 26 feet long, with a capacity of 10,000 pieces an hour.

WHAT IF YOU HAVE TO START ALL OVER AT AGE 42?

When machinery replaces men—when new methods work more efficiently—that's progress. But opportunity for you is part of progress, too. There will be new jobs—new chances to earn a living. And a better one at that.

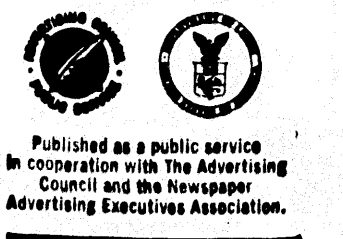

Suppose you have many years of experience on a job you like. But—next month or next year—the plant closes down. Or a new machine takes your place. What happens to you?

You won't get tomorrow's jobs with yesterday's skills.

These new opportunities will demand something different. New skills. You'll want to re-train—learn these new skills and abilities in order to fill one of the better-paying jobs that progress brings.

It takes a little time and effort to re-train. Mostly, it takes the will to make a better future for yourself. Start by talking to the local office of your state employment service.

Train now for tomorrow's jobs

AMERICAN TENOR Herschelle Garber will present the first concert of the Delta County Community Concert Association series on Saturday evening, Oct. 16. Curtain time at William Oliver Auditorium is 8:15 o'clock.

Price We Pay:

Growing Tide Of Pollution Threat To Life

Man is paying a high price for the industrialization of his economy and the comforts of modern living, Cliff Long, Conservation Department district fish biologist, told the Rotary Club at the House of Ludwig Monday noon.

There is a sickness, an infection loose in the world that is visible on the coasts of North America, the Great Lakes, and the rivers, the biologist said.

"The infected areas are our cities and industrial complexes which are putting millions of tons of pollutant into our waters and into the air, that are choking the life out of the land under huge slabs of concrete and asphalt."

Since the beginning of history man has been busy engaged in a program of habitat improvement to favor the human species, Long pointed out.

"We expect and demand the products of industry and an advanced civilization but seem to forget that in order to obtain them we must give up something else of value. We cannot have the advantages of our 20th century economy and expect to retain the beauty and charm of 18th century lakes and streams and woodlands."

Human habitat is expanding and wildlife habitat is pushed farther back, he said. Ultimately "only domestic animals and those species such as rodents which are able to adjust to the human habitat, will remain."

Effluent of waste materials flowing into rivers, the use of water for irrigation that reduces the flow of small streams, the destruction of marshes by road fill, the seepage from septic tanks into lakes — these and accepted practices are destroying the natural environment of our land, he said.

Selling Our Heritage

"I believe there is an urgent need now to make people realize that the loss of these things is a part of the price they are paying for the products of industry and for the conveniences and comforts associated with what we call progress," Long declared. "The true price is not what you see marked on the container."

"Because we don't realize this, we are selling our heritage for a few cents a day. It is we — the average citizen — not industry, which is responsible."

Through millions of years of evolution nature perfected a fine sports fish — the grayling. It was once abundant in Michigan streams. "It took man only a few decades to remove it forever from the scene."

Long said that he sought to arouse an awareness of the basic problems of environmental pollution and to bring action to correct the abuses. For ultimately when all waters are polluted and the soil destroyed, human life can not survive.

Don Yost, Rotary president, conducted the meeting, and the speaker was introduced by Robert Haack, program chairman.

Garden Peninsula Bake Sale

The Women's Fellowship of the Garden Congregational Church will hold a bake sale Saturday, Oct. 16, at the Community Building at 2 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Randall McPhie of Detroit spent the weekend at the Norman Rochefort and Gordon McPhie homes.

Eugene Gauthier of Pontiac spent the weekend with his family. His mother, Mrs. Delia Gauthier, returned to Lower Michigan with him. She will spend the winter with the Grady Steele family at Clarkston.

Mr. and Mrs. John LaVallee and daughter Julie returned to Warren after a visit at the Alfred LaVallee home.

Norman Rochefort and son Barry returned to Flint after spending the weekend at home.

Mrs. Eugene Gauthier returned from a two week trip to Potlatch, Idaho, where she visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Todish. She was accompanied on the trip by her uncle, Lyle Bouchard of Manistique.

Exchange Club Final Auction Set For Sunday

The final public auction sponsored by the Escanaba Exchange Club for the benefit of the dental fund for underprivileged children of Delta County will be held at the U. P. State Fairgrounds in Escanaba starting at 1:06 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 17.

There are many items left to be auctioned following the two prior auctions at which many "first-line" articles remained from the large stock that had been donated for the sale. All items will be disposed of at the final auction, said Robert Abb and Bill Daniels, co-chairman.

The first two days of the sale netted the Club's dental fund slightly more than $1,200. It is hoped the final auction will boost the total by another $500 or $600.

Many new items donated by Escanaba merchants are scheduled for the auction block, as well as a half side of beef and other articles — including antiques. Col. George Lockard is donating his services as auctioneer.

State Approves New College On Mackinac Island

LANSING (AP)—The State Board of Education has approved the establishment of Mackinac College, a four-year liberal arts school, on Mackinac Island.

The college, founded by leaders of the Moral Re-armament group on the island, will use MRA facilities.

The Board was told enrollments will start next fall and some 1,000 students are expected eventually. There will be room for 400 men and 250 women in existing dormitory facilities.

S. Douglas Cornell, former executive officer of the National Academy of Sciences, Washington, D. C., will be college president.

Mott Foundation Proposes Flint Recreation Area

FLINT (UPI)—The board of trustees of the Mott Foundation Tuesday offered to buy property valued at $3 million for a recreational development in north-eastern Genesee County.

The foundation directors presented the offer to the Genesee County Board of Supervisors. But the offer was contingent upon approval by county voters of a 1/4 mill tax levy for 10 years. The money from the tax levy would be used to develop, maintain and operate the recreational facility.

The board of supervisors promised to put the millage proposal on the ballot before Feb. 1.

The $3 million would be used to buy a seven-mile stretch of land flanking the Flint River as it enters the city. A dam would be built to hold back the river and develop lakes in the area. Camp sites, picnicking areas and other facilities also would be developed.

Baseball Benefit Party Saturday

SCHAFFER — The Schaffer Baseball Association is sponsoring a party at Potvin's Fireside Room Saturday, Oct. 16, from 9 to 1 for the benefit of the club. Lunch and refreshments will be served and the public is invited. Tickets may be purchased at the door. Robert Robinette, president of the association, has announced that proceeds will be used to improve the baseball diamond property which recently was deeded by Joseph Gilbert to be used for recreational purposes.

Dentist Fined On Income Tax Count

DETROIT (UPI)—Dr. Harry Cook, 54 Ann Arbor, Tuesday was fined $1,000 by Federal Judge Wade H. McCree for failing to file income tax returns from 1958 through 1961.

Cook, a dentist, has maintained offices in Ann Arbor since 1940.

Chief assistant U.S. attorney William H. Merrill said Cook failed to report about $39,000 in adjusted gross income over the four-year period. He said a tax of about $5,000 was due on that amount.

Merrill said Cook also faces liability for $3,000 in fraud penalties.

Honor Racicots At Anniversary, Farewell Party

SCHAFFER — Mr. and Mrs. Louis Racicot were honored at a surprise party Saturday evening on the occasion of their 48th wedding anniversary. Arrangement were in charge of members of their family.

A dinner was served at 6 at Potvin's Fireside Room which was decorated with large wedding bells. The two-tiered white cake, decorated with red roses and green leaves was made by Mrs. Louis DuBord, a close friend of the Racicots.

In the evening friends from Schaffer and neighboring communities gathered at Potvin's to fete the couple at a belated wedding party. Dancing and refreshments were followed by presentation of gift purse.

Mr. and Mrs. Racicot sold their home to the Joseph Lip-pens family and move to Escanaba last November. They had resided in Schaffer 45 years and Mr. Racicot owned and operated a grocery store 29 years, in addition to farming. The farm was sold to his son, Melvin, but Mr. Racicot travels to Schaffer every day to lend a helping hand.

Their children, all of whom were present, and their husbands or wives, are: Mr. and Mrs. Fred (Eunice) Morin of Niagara; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon (Geraldine) DeMars, Escanaba; Mr. and Mrs. Francis (Elvera) Gaudrault, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Racicot, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Racicot and Mr. and Mrs. Phil (Dolores) Viau, all of Schaffer; Mr. and Mrs. Don (Donna) Erickson, Milwaukee. Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Racicot of Detroit, brother and sister-in-law of Mr. Racicot.

Dr. Mary Cretens Tells Club Of Study Tour

Dr. Mary Cretens, Director of Delta - Menominee County Health Department, was guest speaker at the regular dinner meeting of Escanaba Business and Professional Women's Club held last evening at the Sherman Hotel.

Dr. Cretens showed unusually beautiful and interesting slides taken while she was on a five week Public Health Study tour during the summer of 1964. The tour, under the leadership of an officer of the Health and Education Department of the World Health Organization, visited England, Norway, Denmark, Germany, Austria, Hungary, Yugoslavia, Italy and Switzerland. In addition to sightseeing, they visited hospital and health centers.

All the countries visited have socialized medicine with the exception of Hungary and Yugoslavia. These two countries have government health programs which are paid for by deductions from the workers' wages. In the area of public health, Dr. Cretens believes that England is second to the United States.

More Exercise
Even though the United States is ahead in public health and children are better cared for, the teen-agers in Europe appear to be sturdier. Dr. Cretens attributes this to the fact that Europeans have to walk and get more exercise and they also eat more nutritious food. She also observed that European women wear low-heeled shoes more than American women.

Commenting on the various countries visited, Dr. Cretens stated that there are no slums in Denmark and Norway. Also in Denmark, the group visited a bottling plant and were interested to learn that women workers were allowed to take their children to the plant where they were cared for in a day nursery for 15c to 20c per day. In Berlin, the group observed very modern up-to-date hospitals.

In Budapest, the group visited a Well-Child Center built with Rockefeller Foundation Funds where mothers can take their children for free medical attention. Also in Hungary, the children of miners are entitled to a two weeks stay in a summer camp. In contrast to this, Dr. Cretens stated that Hungary has a problem of alcoholism among 12 and 18 year old children.

TB Treatment
In Belgrade, Dr. Cretens visited a tuberculosis sanatorium where the treatment given is about the same as in this country. While they do not do much medical research on their own, they study U. S. methods. In attendance at the sanatorium was a nurse who was trained at the Mayo Clinic.

Also of interest was a visit to the Food Agricultural Building in Rome where a study is being made of food problems in various countries in an effort to help them become self-sufficient.

Dr. Cretens also expressed her appreciation to Escanaba Business and Professional Women's Club and all the other clubs and organizations who have assisted the Health Department in making various programs go over. Escanaba EPW Club has donated money for polio shots and has a continuous program for buying shoes for needy children.

Last night's program was arranged by the Civic Participation committee consisting of Nancy Pearson, Marian Tillman, Marian Oliver and Doris La-Cosse.

Personals

Dr. and Mrs. John H. Beaumier and children, Jack, Anne and Patrick, have returned to their home in Rochester, Minn., after spending a vacation at the home of Dr. Beaumier's mother, Mrs. Henry J. Beaumier.

St. Anthony's Will Hold Day Of Recollection

Fr. Leno Zadra of St. Thomas Parish will lead the teenagers of the area in spiritual exercises tomorrow at St. Anthony's Church in Wells.

The program for the day includes four conferences beginning at 9:30, Mass at 11:30, lunch at 12:15, and Benediction with the Blessed Sacrament at 2:00.

This is an annual activity sponsored by the Catholic Youth Organization of St. Anthony's Parish during the holidays due to the teacher's convention. In previous years Fathers Thomas Coleman, William Richards, Norbert Freiburgher and Charles Oliver have conducted the exercises.

Mrs. James Hughes, Mrs. Clinton E. Groos, Mrs. Stanley Harris, Mrs. Harold Thinglum and others will be in charge of the hot lunch. Miss Josephine Sakily will be the organist at the Mass and Mrs. Clinton E. Groos at the Benediction service.

The day's activity will conclude with an evening hay ride followed by a social hour in the Church Hall.

You may substitute honey for molasses in a whole-wheat yeast bread.

Washington PTA Hears Report On Bay Cliff

John Vargo, executive director, presented a film pertaining to the Bay Cliff Health Camp, located 30 miles north of Marquette, where a summer therapy program is conducted for physically handicapped children for a 6 weeks period.

During its years of operation, since 1934, the camp has helped over 5,000 children, he said. Bay Cliff Health Camp accepts children from every county in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan and is supported entirely by contributions (this year they are on the DUC list). Bay Cliff is staffed by highly qualified personnel; counselors must have at least one year of college. In addition to providing individual treatment for the children, it provides all of their clothing and bedding for the entire six-week period; even to combs, toothbrushes, stationery and postage.

With the various education programs being conducted for school personnel, it has been necessary to change the meeting night to the second Monday of the month.

Mrs. Richard Larson reported on the progress of the Escanaba Area Council Study group in regards to the Code of Conduct responsibilities for children and parents.

Lloyd Strahl will serve the Washington School Cub Scout Pack 416 as Cubmaster, with the organization meeting to be held this evening for leaders and parents only.

Plans have been completed for the Halloween Carnival by chairman Mrs. John Anderson and committees. It will be held Friday, Oct. 29, from 7 to 9 p.m.

Room count was awarded to Mrs. Mildred Boyce's kindergarten class.

Social hour hostesses were Mesdames Eugene Merrell, John Anderson, Wilfred Beauvais, Rene Marcoe and Robert Melchior.

Mrs. Shank Is Taken By Death

Mrs. Isabelle L. Shank, 71, of 914 Wisconsin Ave., Gladstone, died at 10:30 a. m., Tuesday at St. Francis Hospital where she was a patient 12 days. She had lived in Gladstone 40 years and was prominently known in the community.

She was born in Ishpeming Dec. 1, 1893. She took her nurse's training in Peoria, Ill., and was in the nursing profession in Menominee before her marriage to Carl T. Shank. He died March 8, 1949.

She was a member of All Saints Catholic Church, the Ladies' Guild, WCOF, and American Legion Auxiliary.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Stanley (Margaret) Whitman, Munising; a son, Thomas, Menominee; six grandchildren; four sisters, Mrs. Sam Dunsmore, Gladstone, Miss Margaret McCarthy, Escanaba, and Misses Florence and Etta McCarthy, Ishpeming.

Friends may call at Skradski Funeral Home beginning this afternoon and parish prayers will be offered there at 8 this evening. Services will be conducted by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Matt LaViolette at All Saints Church Thursday at 9 a. m. Burial will be in Fernwood Cemetery.

Entry Solved; Auto Recovered By State Police

The breaking and entering of a camp in Masonville Township was solved and a stolen auto was recovered Tuesday by State Police of the Gladstone post.

Arrested for breaking and entering without permission of the owner was Raymond S. Falk, 25, of Adams Rte. 1, Wis. He pleaded guilty to the charge in Justice A. J. Mortier's court at Gladstone and was ordered to serve 30 days in the Delta County jail.

The camp entered was that of Ray Richards of Escanaba north of the Haymeadow Creek in Masonville Township. Richards has a crew, including Falk, employed in some building work. Richards discovered the breaking and entering and a car parked nearby and notified State Police Tuesday morning.

The car is owned by Donald Pelletier of Rapid River and was reported to have been stolen at 3 a. m. Tuesday. The car theft is still under investigation and no formal charge has been made, said State Police.

State Police are also investigating a theft of parts from a junked car along the Hamaville Road, reported by Stella Clements of Harris.

A traffic summons was issued by State Police to Gaylord Larsen of Escanaba Rte. 1 for not having an operator's license.

Offers Opinions, Views On Nation:

Ike Still Sparkles On Eve Of 75th Birthday

EDITOR'S NOTE: Thursday is the 75th birthday of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. On the eve of this milestone in his life, Eisenhower gives his opinions on world affairs in an interview with UPI White House Reporter Merriman Smith.

By MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Reporter
GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UPI)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, on the eve of his 75th birthday, feels American society is threatened by so-called easy money, the temptation to "let Washington do it," and, for that matter, long hair-dos affected by so many young men. The long hair displayed in some younger male circles, he says, is really symptomatic of something much deeper—a diminution of self-respect, individually and nationally.

These and other opinions on current affairs were expressed by the five-star general and former chief executive in an interview with United Press International.

Birthday Thursday
Thursday Eisenhower will celebrate one of his most active birthdays in recent years, marked by publication of his second post-White House book.

Dwight D. Eisenhower
... turns 75 Thursday

"Waging Peace" This is a massive work of 741 pages covering his latter years in the White House, including his problems with Cuba, Hungary, Viet Nam and such world leaders as former Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

Actually publication date for Eisenhower was somewhat of an anti-climax. He has been talking about the book almost daily for several weeks, taping television shows, granting interviews and all the while, maintaining a speaking schedule away from his Pennsylvania home and working on still another book.

His capacity for work seems, if anything, to have increased in retirement. And physically, it agrees with him. He looks slimmer than when he left office in 1961. His stance is trim and erect, that of a man 30 years his junior.

Has Electric Smile
And he still has that electric smile, a trademark for many years that evoked roaring cheers from New Delhi to New York. A UPI photographer, snapping pictures informally throughout this interview, cracked down on one particularly broad Eisenhower grin and said softly, "Man, he still has it."

Eisenhower "still has it" in many other ways. While he was never any great shakes as a professional politician, there are Republicans today who believe he still is the best the party has to offer when it comes to commanding public attention. "Like it not," he was told, "you're still head of the Republican Party in the minds of millions of Americans."

He thought this was "unfortunate." While he likes to be consulted on the course of his party, he thinks that public attention should be focused on Republicans who are on their way up.

GOP Should Get Moving
Eisenhower concedes readily that there seems to be a current shortage of GOP presidential timber for 1968, but he thinks the Republicans should and will get moving to encourage the emergence of young, talented and dedicated leaders. "When we find one party becoming too dominant for too long, then the whole institution of government is damaged," he said.

"I like to think of the Republican Party as the common sense party," he added. This was his introduction for some rather strongly expressed feelings about those who in complacency and over-acceptance of the status quo, try to pretend that there are no real social problems in America; that since they, themselves are sitting pretty, they shy away from challenging real threats to their security.

Need State Leaders
"I think those people are stupid," he said almost glumly. He is particularly distressed by those who for all their discontent, believe in letting Washington handle all problems with federal money, power, moral and social leadership. He thinks there is a greater need for leadership on the state, local and individual levels.

He believes federal subsidies have been overdone, particularly in agriculture where he would cut farm price supports sharply, to where price in the market place is a more determining factor than it is today. The former president expressed the belief that with bank credit expanding rapidly and prices, particularly wholesale prices, rising, the country was in a stage or state of inflation which could become quite serious, damage the dollar abroad and lead eventually to some form of domestic economic controls.

Trouble Ahead?
He said that with the long prosperity which the country was enjoying, along with easy money, tremendous federal expenditures, increasing public dependence on Washington and the continued imbalance of foreign payments, the economy was coming into a period of trouble.

What to do about it? His feeling was that reversal of a trend is well nigh impossible, but with proper policies at the top, it could be arrested before the point of severe national difficulty.

And this brought him around again to the need for more vibrant leadership in the GOP with an eye to 1968 and 1972. He is reluctant to place his hand on the shoulder of any prospect at this point.

Ask him to name some possibilities? This quite obviously makes him a trifle uncomfortable, but for sake of the interview he was willing to throw in a few names of those he considers among the more attractive Republicans today—Gov. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon was the first name that came to mind, then Gov. John A. Love of Colorado, Gov. George W. Romney of Michigan and Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania.

Nixon Also Mentioned
A bit later in the conversation he also mentioned former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, defeated for the presidency, and also for governor of California, as a man who still was a prominent figure in political life. But clearly he was not casting Nixon in any future candidate's role.

Other subjects covered by the former President in his birthday, book publication interview with United Press International.

President Johnson — they're old friends and confer frequently. When Johnson called to tell Eisenhower of going into the hospital for a gall bladder operation, Eisenhower counseled his friend to let the doctors "tell the absolute truth." He warned against trying to kid the American people. Being a friend of Johnson is no guarantee of Eisenhower support for domestic programs of the administration. They talk frequently about foreign affairs or personal matters, but they have a gentlemen's agreement not to talk about domestic things. Eisenhower says frankly he is opposed to virtually every domestic program put forward by Johnson in character, concept or in degree.

On Right Viet Course
Viet Nam—when he was coping with the problem of Southeast Asia while in office, he did not foresee involvement of what is approaching a big war. He thought the government of Ngo Dinh Diem would be more stable than it was and that Diem fell under the weight of his own suspicious frame of mind which kept all but members of his family from the center of government. He thinks the United States is on the right course in sending in enough troops to show the North Vietnamese that the war will be costly to them, but he would like to see greater South Vietnamese infiltration of the north as the Viet Cong is doing in the south. On reaching 75—"oh, that." He doesn't look 75, he doesn't act 75 and furthermore, he doesn't feel it. Reminded that when he left the white house, he said he expected to spend his first six months rocking, Eisenhower fore deciding what to do, Eisenhower laughed at himself. "I'm saving that rocker," he said, "for the day when I feel as old as I really am."

Council Discusses Community School Finance Proposal

A request by the Manistique School District for allocation of part of the city recreation fund for community school implementation was being considered this afternoon in a special meeting of the City Council.

The Council considered the request Monday night and indicated more information was desired. Some indicated the city should transfer the entire $8,100 budget and the entire to the community school if it participates in the plan.

Councilman Orson Livermore noted the city has built a fine recreation program and that he wanted to be certain it would be continued. The school district has requested $3,400 for the first year.

A workshop tour of the Flint Community School program is scheduled.

A Vilcan Leman progress report on community planning was received. It is now 80 per cent complete. Reports on assistance programs available for sewers, streets and water filtration were received from the city manager.

A resolution was adopted urging continuation of the aerial bridge between the two peninsulas of Michigan.

A report was received on a sign at Chippewa and Otter in violation of the zoning ordinance.

At a special meeting last week, motion was made to bid in five parcels of land from the Conservation Department tax sale to permit the city to collect assessments and taxes against them. The totals ranged from $177.41 to $183.49.

Hospital

Admitted to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital were Russell Zellar, McMillan, Bernice Johnson, Rte. 1, Aldred Neddow, 138 N. 1st, Nancy Platt, Engadine, Stella Stoor, 731 Oak and Linda Caron, 301 N. Houghton. Discharged were Howard Smith, Clarence Gerlach, Kathy Rochefort, Janet Murphy, Lena Duchene and Jean Lustila.

Predict Growth Of Agriculture

Opportunity for economic growth of agriculture is possible and the area has the resources for it, Roger Howell of the Soil Conservation district said after a tour of Schoolcraft County farms.

Making the tour with him were representatives of the U. S. Forest Service, Michigan Department of Conservation, the ASC, the Soil Conservation service, the County extension director and directors of the Soil Conservation district.

Agriculture, forestry, recreation and wildlife potentials of land were considered. A stop at Seney refuge concluded the tour.

Goals will be search for ways to boost the economy, solve problems before they reach critical stage, anticipating forthcoming problems, and plan in relation to overall economic aspects.

'Freedom Concert' Tour To Begin

School Receives $1,000 Bequest

The Manistique Board of Education Monday night accepted a donation of a Laser beam from a 4-H club, and $1,000 from the estate of Alex Creighton for improvement of the high school music department.

Mr. Creighton was active in music, singing in church choirs, the Community Chorus and the Barbershop Chorus. He also played and called for square dances and played in a banjo band. The Laser beam was presented by Maurice Reid for the 4-H club.

A resolution of appreciation was adopted for the Green Fire Booster Club efforts for the new concession stand in the football field.

A request of Mrs. Earl Le-Brasseur to use sick leave pay for a speech correction class was approved.

Changes were made in the budget due to lower tuition receipts, and the elementary-secondary education act was reviewed. It provides for mediation when negotiations with employees fall. The tuition receipts are expected to total $29,028 instead of $87,602.

Full implementation of the community school concept was discussed, with planning to continue.

Space in the school building for separate classrooms for trainable, educable retarded children will be allocated, the board indicated, after a request from the Retarded Children's Assn.

Gift To Library At MTU-Soo Is Made By Hoholik

The gift of a set of encyclopedia, a dictionary and an atlas has been made to the library of MTU-Soo by F. S. Hoholik, president and general manager of the Manistique Pulp and Paper Co.

At present the Branch library contains 9,000 volumes, and this is by no means adequate to meet the needs of the present student body, according to Dr. Kenneth A. Shouldice, Branch vice president and director.

Plans are currently underway to add more volumes to the Branch library, and the long range projection of campus improvement includes a new library building.

Four U.P. Grid Teams Eye Perfect Records

Lee MacPhail Likely New Commissioner

MINNEAPOLIS—ST. PAUL (UPI)—Lee MacPhail, who has been running the Baltimore Orioles, probably will be running major league baseball as its new commissioner before the start of the 1966 season.

The majority of the 20 American and National League club owners, faced with the problem of replacing the retiring Ford Frick, have settled on MacPhail as their choice, the United Press International learned.

He will be offered a five-year contract at $100,000 a year and be given powers that no baseball commissioner has had since the days of Kenesaw Mountain Landis.

"I like the work I'm doing here," MacPhail told the UPI in a telephone conversation from his Baltimore home, "but let's face it, my life is baseball and if the game calls on me for the job, I'd accept it. I'd be greatly honored. No one in baseball could turn the job down."

"I have not sought the job and have no personal ambitions along that line. But baseball is my business and if they want me to be commissioner, I will."

MacPhail insisted that so far as he knew there had been no decision on the question of whether to keep a baseball man in the job or to name an outsider.

"I honestly don't think the owners have crystallized their feeling on whether they want a man who has been in baseball as the new commissioner or a man outside the game," MacPhail said.

The fact that there is a hard core of American League club owners, led by John Fetzer of the Detroit tigers, insisting that a non-baseball man be chosen for the job, led to a campaign by National League club owners to elect MacPhail to the post.

There are other American League club owners plugging for their league president, Joe Cronin, for the job. Cronin appeared a sure bet for the post when Frick's retirement plans originally were revealed but he reportedly lost favor over the way he supervised the sale of the New York Yankees to the Columbia Broadcasting System and the attempts of owner

Pick Spartans By 6½ Points

NEW YORK (UPI)—Michigan State, the fourth-rated team in the nation, was installed today as a 6½-point favorite to beat Ohio State at East Lansing Saturday in their crucial Big Ten game.

The Spartans will be seeking their fifth consecutive win of the season and third in conference play. They already have rolled over UCLA, Penn State, Illinois and Michigan. Ohio State, which has lost one game, was ranked 13th in the nation.

Purdue, tied for sixth place in the ratings, was a six-point favorite over Michigan in their clash at Ann Arbor.

In other games involving Big Ten teams, Northwestern was rated seven better than Wisconsin, Illinois by 10 over Indiana and Iowa by two over Minnesota.

In the pro ranks, the unbeaten Green Bay Packers were figured nine better than the Lions in their clash at Detroit Sunday. Philadelphia was a 3½-point choice over New York, Baltimore 12 over Washington, St. Louis 12 over Pittsburgh, Cleveland 10 over Dallas, Minnesota 7 over Chicago and the San Francisco - Los Angeles game was figured even.

Kingsford Faces Tough Last Three Opponents

Four Upper Peninsula high school football teams still boast undefeated, untied records entering the seventh weekend of the season.

Members of the select circle are Crystal Falls, Kingsford, Ironwood and St. Ignace. DeTour and Sault Ste. Marie also are unbeaten, but both have ties on their slates.

Although they face a rugged stretch drive, it is possible for all four teams to make it the rest of the way. Here's what they have ahead of them:

Kingsford plays at Stambaugh Friday night, then meets Menominee and Iron Mountain in a tough final three weeks.

Crystal Falls takes on winless Baraga Friday, then winds up with a game against Hancock (2-4) the following weekend.

Ironwood faces Menominee this weekend and closes out the campaign against Ashland Oct. 22.

St. Ignace takes on downstate St. Ignace Friday night, faces Rudyard Oct. 22 and meets Onaway in the finale Oct. 29.

If the four teams complete their seasons with perfect records, it will not be a new accomplishment in Upper Peninsula grid ranks. Only two years ago four teams made it, with Kingsford, Soo, Ironwood and Soo Loretto all winning eight straight.

Crystal Falls is the highest scoring team in the Peninsula with 188 points, an average of 31 per game. DeTour and Sault Ste. Marie share the top defensive honors with each allowing only one touchdown to date.

In contrast to the four winning teams in the U. P., there are also four teams that have lost all their starts this

In This Corner

with Roy Crandall

The Ironwood Red Devils have already clinched at least a share of the Michigan-Wisconsin Conference championship after their 34-6 triumph over Bessemer . . . Coach Wayne Melchior's gridders notched their sixth straight victory of the season behind fullback Steve Slining who gained 167 yards rushing and quarterback Don Koivisto who pitched two touchdown passes and ran for a third.

The Menominee Maroons are assured of their first winning season since 1958, following the 19-0 decision over Iron Mountain . . . Coach John Knispel's gridders fashioned their fifth straight victory since a season opening loss to Escanaba with end Jim Uecker scoring two touchdowns, on a 40 yard punt return and a 49 yard bomb from quarterback John Neillo.

Chris Alberti, Kingsford's 208 pound blockbusting junior fullback, was held to 51 yards in 18 carries by a rugged Stephenson defense, but it wasn't enough as the Flivvers stepped a 26-0 Great Northern Conference victory . . . Halfback Tom Johnson exploded for 139 yards in 10 trips to set the Kingsford victory pace.

Jim Malloch, senior halfback from Manistique, was credited with a tremendous block that shook Tom Csmarich free on a 10 yard touchdown run as the Michigan Tech Huskies flattened St. Cloud, 29-0 . . . Coach Bill Lucier's team has won four straight starts, including three in the Northern Intercollegiate Conference . . . The Huskies travel to Mankato, a team with a 2-1 record, this Saturday.

The surprising Negaunee Miners put on another impressive scoring display when they bombed Gwinn, 47-0, for their third victory against a loss and a tie . . . Quarterback Tom Kemp threw three touchdown passes as the Miners gained 310 yards rushing and passing . . . The defeat was Gwinn's sixth straight this season.

Munising handed downstate Cheboygan its first defeat of the season when the Mustangs scored a 19-12 victory in Lower Michigan . . . Halfback Jim Stangel scored twice for Coach Bill Earle's gridders and quarterback Darryl Cox had a fine day with 11 completions in 16 attempts for 125 yards in the air.

Newberry dropped a heartbreaker to downstate Petoskey, 7-6 last weekend . . . Coach Ken Haggart's Indians completely dominated the game but were able to score only one touchdown and then fell short on a plunge for the extra point . . . Newberry picked up 234 total yards to 51 for Petoskey . . . The Petoskey TD came after a fumble recovery on the Newberry 20 on the first play from scrimmage . . . After that Petoskey was never able to cross the 50 yard line.

Bob Phillips, a fullback switched to halfback, scored all 20 points as the Marquette Redmen came up with their stunning 20-13 verdict over the skidding Ishpeming Hematites . . . Phillips gained 124 yards rushing and hit paydirt on runs of 46, 1 and 3 yards as Marquette snapped a five game losing streak . . . After winning their first three starts this season Ishpeming has now lost three straight.

Injuries Strike Northern's Top Offense Stars

MARQUETTE (UPI)—Northern Michigan, ranked among the top small college football powers in the nation until suffering a stunning 13-0 loss from Central Michigan last week, has lost its top offensive punch for the rest of the season.

End Bernie Schmitt and quarterback Clair Lambert are both sidelined with injuries. Schmitt is gone for the season with a head injury and Lambert will be out for at least a couple weeks with a broken thumb on his throwing hand.

The injury struck Northern just before they take on their stiffest competition of the year, Northern faces the winningest college in the country Saturday when they face St. Norbert, Wis., which has a 5-0 record.

Schmitt, a 6-foot, 3-inch senior from Milwaukee, Wis., received a blow on the head during the first half of the loss to Central. After spending the weekend in a hospital, he took the advice of doctors and decided not to play again this year.

Lambert, a freshman from Westchester, Ill., was virtually the entire Northern offense. He had totaled 461 yards, including the game against Central in which the thumb injury crippled his performance and cost him the entire fourth quarter of play.

Of Lambert's total yardage, 446 yards were by passing. Schmitt had taken 17 of the passes for 233 yards and a touchdown. Sophomore Dennis Porter, from Sault Ste. Marie, previously limited to the defensive end job, will now play both ways in replacing Schmitt.

Bill Sauter, a freshman from Iron Mountain, whose only experience is the fourth quarter of the Central game, will take over at quarterback.

Devaney New Coach Of Week

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI)—There was a time when Nebraska fans were accustomed to losing football. Only a handful of the hardy—foolhardy was a more frequently employed term—dared hope for a Big Eight title.

That was before Robert S. Devaney arrived in 1962 as head coach. Now, sights are set on a national championship.

The affable, energetic and enthusiastic Irishman rekindled a proud football tradition that hadn't burned since the prewar days of Dana X. Bible and Biff Jones.

He convinced fans that all it took was some organization and lots of confidence to become a winner, something he has been throughout his coaching career. Last week that philosophy was never more evident as Devaney's top-ranked Cornhuskers whomped Wisconsin, 37-0. It was their fourth consecutive win of the season.

The victory, while not unexpected, earned for Devaney the United Press International coach-of-the-week honor. "The Huskers' showing against Wisconsin was a prime example of the awesome offensive power and destructive defensive play that Nebraska has come to know under the 50-year-old Devaney.

Jimmy Brown Off To Fast Rushing Start This Year

NEW YORK (UPI)—If Cleveland's National Football League team wasn't already called the Browns, somebody probably would be handing around a petition to have it renamed in honor of star fullback Jim Brown.

Brown, intent on leading Cleveland to its second consecutive NFL title, is running away with the race for rushing honors, according to statistics released today.

No other player seems capable of even posing a threat to his bid to win the league rushing title for the eighth time in nine seasons. Brown has carried the ball 94 times for 476 yards and four touchdowns, and only last week he turned in the league's best performance of the season after four games by gaining 168 yards in 29 attempts against Pittsburgh.

Far behind Brown in second place in rushing is Tommy Mason of Minnesota with 228 yards on 60 carries. Tim Brown of Philadelphia is third with 217 yards on 43 attempts.

third with 69 completions in 114 attempts for 971 yards and eight touchdowns.

Tom Brown not only spearheads Philadelphia's running attack, but also leads the league in pass receiving to pose a double offensive threat. He has caught 23 for 399 yards.

Tommy McDonald of Los Angeles is second with 22 catches for 332 yards and Dave Parks of San Francisco is third with 376 yards on 19 completions.

Jim Bakken of St. Louis, which is tied with Cleveland for first place in the Eastern Division with a 3-1 record, has kicked his way into the point-scoring lead. He has booted 16 extra points and seven field goals for 37 points. Fred Cox of Minnesota is second in scoring with 35 points and Don Chandler of Green Bay is third with 33. All of the top three point-producers gained every one of their points by kicking.

Pat Studstill of Detroit, who led the league in punt returns in 1962, has done an about-face to lead in punting this season with 25 for an average of 46 yards.

Leaders in other departments are Roy Jefferson of Pittsburgh in punt returns with six for an average of 13.8 yards and Irv Cross of Philadelphia in kickoff returns with nine for a 30.3-yard average.

NOW! A WHOLE NEW SERIES OF ULTRA-LUXURIOUS CHEVROLETS

'66 CAPRICE

BY CHEVROLET

Caprice Custom Coupe—with exclusive formal roof line comes on no other Chevrolet.

Caprice Custom Sedan—with superb new Body by Fisher elegance inside and out.

Caprice Custom Wagon—with fine new look of hard-wood paneling on sides and tailgate.

A new choice of superbly crafted Chevrolets above and beyond anything else in the line. If this is your year to move up, you just can't move up to much more car than this.

Everything it takes to create a distinguished luxury car has gone into these new Caprices.

Beneath the formal styling elegance that sets the Custom Coupe apart, for instance, you'll find the richness of thick wall-to-wall carpeting, comfort-contoured seats and the look of hand-rubbed walnut on the instrument panel, glove compartment and inside door panels.

They're custom cars in every sense. In the Custom Coupe, you can order a finely instrumented console, together with new Strato-bucket front seats. In the Custom Sedan, a new Strato-back front seat is available with bucket-type contours separated by a fold-down armrest. And in the equally opulent Custom Wagons, offered in 2- or 3-seat models, you can even order carpeting for the cargo area.

Each model, with its own specially tailored suspension refinements, rides super Jet-smooth. And for incomparably smooth power, you can specify Chevrolet's advanced Turbo-Jet V8 in either a 396- or 427-cubic-inch version. Some 200 custom features are also available, including front-seat headrests, AM-FM stereo and a Tilt-telescopic steering wheel.

The price of it all? Somewhat more, naturally, than you're used to paying for a Chevrolet. But less—surprisingly less, as your dealer will happily confirm—than the select class of fine cars these new Caprices invite comparison with in every detail.

Four good reasons you'll appreciate the new half-gallon of Seagram's 7 Crown.

1. It's compact. Only 12½ inches high. So it fits most shelves and cabinets.
2. We've built a special pourer into the top. So this half-gallon pours evenly instead of gushing.
3. This bottle is specially sculptured, so you can get a good grip on it—even with one hand.
4. Inside: The world's most popular whiskey. So dependably good it's come to be called The Sure One.

Beef Animals Average Price Under '64 Sale

Bay de Noc Beef Producers 8th annual sale of young Up- per Peninsula beef animals to feed lot buyers in its new auc- tion yard at Rapid River Tues- day brought a lower average price per hundred weight than the 1964 sales.

William Winkler, sale auc- tioneer, reported that the average price for 100 pounds at Tuesday's sale of 1,757 animals was $21.31, compared with $21.93 in the 1964 sales.

Yesterday's sale by Auctioneer George Wright of Shepherd sent 743,200 pounds of young beef on the hoof to the feed lots of Lower Michigan and Wisconsin. Average weight of animals was 423 pounds and total value was $158,342, or $90.12 a head.

The sale started at noon and ended at 5 p.m. with all the lots sold and shipments went out throughout the night and the accounting office closed at 2 a.m. today.

Steers $24.93

Winkler said 848 steer calves weighing 332,325 pounds and averaging 392 sold for $82,831.

an average of $24.93 per cwt compared with $23.20 in 1964, or $97.68 average per head.

The heifer calf sale disposed of 599 weighing 222,090, and averaging 369 pounds, for a total value of $41,272 and average of $18.65 per cwt or $68.90 per head. The 1964 average was $20.86 per cwt.

Yearling steers number 172 and weighed 11,720 and aver- aged 700 lbs. They brought $22,342 or $20 per cwt com- pared with $18.97 in 1964 or $129.90 a head.

Under 1964

Yearling heifers totaled 138 and weighed 77,855 or 564 lbs. a head. They brought $11,893 or $15.28 per cwt, compared with $15.40 in 1964, or $86.18 per animal.

William Jaeger, of Watson, president of the Beef Producers, said that a poor corn har- vest had hurt the U. P. sales. The Bruce Crossing sale of last Friday was reported to have averaged $24.90 per cwt.

Some Lower Peninsula feed lot operators estimated that the corn crop was off as much as 30 per cent in their areas.

This would not explain prices at the Rapid River sale as much as the number of animals brought and Michigan is grossly deficient in the number of beef calves and yearlings that it produces for the state's feed lots.

Want Them Older

Hugh Henderson, who team- ed with his fellow livestock specialist Graydon Blank of Michigan State University to help run the sale, said that Michigan feeds 250,000 beef animals and imports all but 50,000 of them.

Henderson said that the qual- ity of beef animals in the Del- ta County sale improves every year. When breeders said that they must get $100 a year from a cow to stay in business he said that they should and can get that income from good op- erations.

Some Lower Michigan buy- ers said that they wouldn't touch heifer calves after last year's experience of finding some pregnant. Late calves were also unattractive. Buyers said some calves weighed only 200 pounds and that they should be born early enough so they would weigh at least 450 pounds at the time of sale.

Breeders who met these feed lot specifications did well at the sale, said buyers.

Agents Discuss Changed, New Insurance Laws

The Upper Peninsula of Mich- igan Association of Indepen- dent Insurance Agents met in Crystal Falls on Tuesday to discuss changes in the Work- men's Compensation Act and the new Motor Vehicle Claims Fund Act.

Attending from this area were:

James Kennedy, Delta Insur- ance Agency; William Perron, Perron Insurance Agency; Al- an Davidson, Davidson Insur- ance, representing the Escana- ba Independent Insurance Agents; William L. Miller, spe- cial agent, Great American In- surance Co.; Lee Miller, special agent, Crum & Forster Group; and Agent John F. Pearson.

W. O. Hildebrand, Lansing, secretary-manager of the Mich- igan Association of Insurance Agents, said the Workmen's Compensation Law now re- quires employers of just one full-time employee to provide statutory benefits as set out in the Act. Formerly, those with less than 3 employees did not come under the provisions of the Act.

Regarding the new Motor Ve- hicle Accident Fund, Hilde- brand reminded the agents that they must do everything pos- sible to inform the public of the fact that the Fund is no sub- stitute for insurance.

He pointed out that not only does the Fund not pay for ac- cidents outside of Michigan but also "an uninsured driver for whom a claim is paid by the Fund must repay the Fund or lose his license."

BAY DE NOC BEEF Producers Association used its new livestock auction building and cattle yard east of Rapid River for the first time on Tuesday in its 8th annual sale of Upper Peninsula young beef animals to Corn Belt feed lot opera-

Romney Presents Bravery Awards

LANSING (UPI)—Gov. Romney Tuesday honored 24 Michigan youths for their out- standing acts of bravery and service.

The governor presented Miss Heather Lynn Clark, 18, Dear- born, Michigan's nominee for the 1964 Young American Medal for service, the state's service award.

Ross Allen Matuja, 13, Fair Haven, received a bravery medal from the governor for saving the lives of his brother and sis- ters when a fire started in a barn they were playing in. He is Michigan's nominee for the 1964 Young American Medal for Bravery award.

Miss Clark, a Eastern Mich- igan University freshman with limited vision in one eye, has been active in Red Cross vol- unteer work. Six youths re- ceived honorable mention certificates for bravery. They were:

—Kevin D. Burke, Allegan, for saving the life of a young girl he discovered lying on the bottom of Little John Lake.

—Steven Childs, Detroit, for saving the lives of four children by taking them out of the path of an oncoming bus.

—Elbert Cox, Jr., Warren, for saving the lives of two smaller brothers who were trapped in their burning home. Six other Cox children were burned to death.

—Ronald Gallinugh, Bay City, for saving the life of a man who had fallen into the Detroit River.

—Glen Male, Alpena, for saving the lives of a couple whose car had crashed through a guard rail and plummeted into the Thunder Bay River.

—Richard Robeson, Lincoln,

Park, for pulling a playmate and Mrs. Marion Lohr, whose boat capsized in North Blue Lake.

—Peggy Webster, Birming- ham, received an honorable mention certificate for service for her work with crippled children.

The governor also presented 15 youths with certificates of recognition for acts of bravery performed this year. All of the individuals will be considered for nomination for the 1965 Young American Medal for Bravery to be presented next year.

Patricia Marie Sterling and Sherry Gail Sterling of Green- bush were honored for saving the life of another girl from an avalanche of snow.

Allen McCool and Robert Moyer, Kalkaska, were credited with saving the lives of Mr.

Patrick Gallagher, Ann Arbor, was cited for saving the life of his cousin, Ann Davis, from drowning.

Others honored by the gov- ernor were:

Cathy Benes, Gail Dolbow, Harley Snyder and Henrietta Snyder, Grand Haven, and Ed- ward Szalonek, Spring Lake, for saving the lives of Mrs. Robert Pankey and her two daughters from drowning.

Christine Doll, Chelsea, for saving the life of a girl who had fallen through the ice at Crooked Lake.

Robert Leick, Lansing, for saving the life of a two-year- old child who was pinned under the wheels of a car.

Elizabeth Dawe, Capac, for saving the life of a classmate

Forest Reserve Tax Distribution Hurts Education

In 1947 there were only 560 acres of Delta County's 748,168 in the Commercial Forest Reserve, (CFR).

This Reserve provides tax re- lief for timber growers to en- courage the growing of wood to supply industry and to increase forest land values.

Where Delta County forest lands average a tax valuation of about $350 per forty acres and an annual ad valorem prop- erty tax of about $8.75 a forty, lands placed under the CFR pay about $6 per forty.

There is an equalizing of the two rates, theoretically at least, when the timber grown under the tax shelter of CFR is fi- nally harvested, because then there is a severance tax of 10 per cent of its value when log- ged.

Tax Deferred

The deferral of part of the tax on property until the wood- land is ready for harvest can create shortages for local gov- ernment units and school dis- tricts dependent upon the prop- erty tax for their operations.

And there is another prob- lem created by the CFR Act. As amended it now has a slid- ing scale of payment per acre from 5 cents to 10 cents, de- pending on whether the total local millage tax on the wood- land is less than 20 mills or 40 mills or more.

Quiet Thief

NEW HAVEN (UPI)—Police were searching today for a quiet thief who stole $10,700 worth of jewels and cash from the motel room of actress Anne Jeffreys while she slept.

Miss Jeffreys was in New Haven for a production of "Kis- met."

Christine Doll, Chelsea, for saving the life of a girl who had fallen through the ice at Crooked Lake.

Robert Leick, Lansing, for saving the life of a two-year- old child who was pinned under the wheels of a car.

Elizabeth Dawe, Capac, for saving the life of a classmate

But extra voted millage above the 15 mill property tax rate is not distributed by the state CFR formula on the basis of actual tax levy. It is distribu- ted on the formula used for al- location of the 15-mill prop- erty tax. Thus if the schools got 8 mills from allocation of the 15 mill property tax and had 10 mills extra voted, the schools would get from the severance tax only its 8 mill proportion.

Reserve Increases

This dislocation becomes more serious as increasing amounts of Delta County woodlands go under the CFR. In 1947 the county had only 560 acres under the act. Ten years later it had 17,572 acres under the act and this year it has 40,945 acres under it.

This year the CFR act was amended to increase the pay- ment in lieu of ad valorem tax- es from 10 cents an acre to 15 cents. This will help, but still leave a gap.

Govt. Ownership

Peter Ross, head of the Del- ta County Tax Department re- ports that the county's 748,168 acres are owned 42 per cent by the state, and federal govern- ments. The U. S. owns over 240,000 acres in the county and the state 65,000 acres, or a total of 315,000 acres not on the ad valorem tax roll, where under CFR, Timber cannot be listed if mature, nor can land which will not produce timber for harvest.

The yield tax still is too new to be providing much experi- ence and knowledge of its po- tential, or much revenue.

Mrs. Erickson Dies Suddenly

Mrs. Matthew E. Erickson, 49, of Chevy Chase, Md., the former Mary Lou Leppla, member of a prominent Escanaba fam- ily, died suddenly of a coronary attack at 7:30 a. m., today in New York City.

Mrs. Erickson and her hus- band had been here during the weekend to visit members of the family and had just left Escanaba for New York.

Mrs. Erickson was born in Escanaba Jan. 5, 1916. She was graduated from Escanaba High School and attended the Col- lege of St. Scholastica in Du- luth and the College of St. Catherine in St. Paul. Her mar- riage to Mr. Erickson took place in Escanaba Oct. 3, 1942.

She had been secretary to Charles McNeill, director of the American Banking Association's Washington office, for 12 years. Funeral services will be held Monday at 9:30 a. m., in Our Lady of Lourdes Church, Beth- esda, Md., with burial in Ar- lington Cemetery. Arrange- ments are in charge of the Pumphrey Funeral Home.

Surviving Mrs. Erickson, be- sides her husband, are her mother, Mrs. Walter V. Lep- pla, Escanaba and three sisters, Mrs. James (Zerelda) Little, Chicago, Mrs. Edwin (Helen) Taylor, Escanaba, and Miss Doris E. Leppla, a teacher in the Ashland, Wis., public school system.

Senior Citizens Hear Vote Issues

Officers and their wives from K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base who will be guests of the Escana- ba Chamber of Commerce Saturday will be conducted on a tour of the city by the fol- lowing drivers and narrators: Walter Wickert, Roy Olson, Emil Christensen, Win Schul- des, Arvid Mustonen and Ru- dolf Smith. The senior citi- zens group will also act as hosts at the noon luncheon.

Chairman John Bartella of the Chamber Senior Citizens committee led a discussion of the Nov. 2 election on the re- tirement of Escanaba City Fire- men and policemen Tuesday. No recommendations were made.

Chamber Manager Lewie presented the report of the Air- port Study Committee to the group and emphasized the community and industrial needs to upgrade and modernize the airport and its facilities. He stressed that for a local invest- ment of $152,000, the Delta County airport would receive capital improvements of a half million dollars. The committee made no recommendation.

Briefly Told

The Escanaba Jaycees will hold their regular meeting to- night at the Dells Supper Club. The meeting will start at 7:30 sharp. Joseph Vogt, District Game Biologist from the Con- servation Department will be the main speaker for the meet- ing and will present an inter- esting and informative talk about the hunting in the Upper Peninsula. A meal will follow the meeting.

Applications for absent vot- er ballots for the Nov. 2 spe- cial election in Escanaba are now being received at the of- fice of City Clerk Don Guindon in the City Hall. The absent voter ballots are for persons who will be unable to attend the polls on election day. The deadline for making applica- tions for absent vote ballots is 3 p. m., Saturday, Oct. 30.
